About Agents of Change

Agents of Change

- Cohort style model involving 10 municipalities (selected from an open call for participation in early 2022)
- Participants were looking to better engage the broader community to take action on climate change through the creation of a volunteer program
- Agents of Change brought them together to work through issues related to focus area, target audience, governance, training, communications, and program delivery
- Brought together AoC participants, Leadership Group, and a variety of guest organizations

Participants

1. Colchester, NS
2. Cranbrook, BC
3. Dufferin County, ON
4. Grey County, ON
